

I oppose the revision of the broadcast ownership limits. Raising the limits will benefit large media conglomerates to the detriment of local communities. The negative changes will include homogenization of news reporting, less local news, and loss of local jobs. Therefore, I would like to unite my voice with the union members, station owners, media activists, and other concerned citizens to oppose the lifting of broadcast ownership limits. We do not wish to lose control of our local media.

Furthermore, I am appalled and afraid of the way this vote is being handled, and how little it has been reported. I would like to thank commissioners Copps and Adelstein for at least making an effort to gauge public opinion on this issue.

Thank you.

Jessica Hardesty
Duke University